

Facilitator's Short Biography

Lucian Lee (he/him) is the Senior Advisor for Cost Analysis at the International Rescue Committee. He supports country teams globally and partner organizations on conducting cost analysis of humanitarian programs and assessing Value for Money. He coordinates a consortium of 9 NGOs that share technical knowledge on economic evaluations and cost data on different interventions in different countries. He has over 10 years of blended experience in the non-profit and private sectors, including economic evaluation, sexual and reproductive health counselling, and technology marketing.